

PENNSYLVANIA CLUB

Organization Formed With 400 Voters as Members.

W.R. ANDREWS PRESIDES

HIGH-CLASS CLUB IN CHOICE SEC-TION OF CITY.

House at Corner of 15th and K Streets Leased for Five Years—Officers Elected.

The Pennsylvania Club, with 400 voters of the Keystone state as its members, was organized last evening at a meeting held in Grand Army Hall. The organization is unique among state political clubs in this city, as it will have a large club house, which is to be fitted up in the style of the most advanced club organizations of this city, and will be a headquarters for Pennsylvanians while here.

At the meeting last evening authority was given the officers of the club to lease the large house on the northwest corner of 15th and K streets, which was formerly used by the McPherson Club, and is regarded as one of the most eligible locations for club purposes in the city. It faces on McPherson Square, being in the midst of many notable residences.

Homes in the Neighborhood.
Within view of the windows of the club house and facing on McPherson Square are the handsome residences of Senator Gorman, Representative Mitt of Illinois and John R. McLean of Ohio, as well as the conspicuous house north of the square occupied by Cornelius Vanderbilt for a season shortly before his death.

This location is looked upon as fitting for the purpose of the organization, which is to make such a club house as will prove to be attractive to the thousands of Pennsylvanians who come here from time to time. An especial effort will be made to welcome visitors from the Keystone state. The house has been planned and will be conducted in a way to properly represent the dignity and honor of the great state whose name it is given.

Billiard and Reading Rooms.
Billiard and reading rooms will be provided and many of the foremost newspapers of Pennsylvania will be kept on file, so that home news may be easily accessible to the members of the club. Colonel Andrews himself is a member of the Pennsylvania Editorial Association, and has a wide acquaintance among the men who make the newspapers of this state.

The club is not essentially a political one, although the active membership will be limited to men who vote the republican ticket in Pennsylvania. It will be undoubtedly be a political headquarters. It will not be the duty of the club to take up as an organization the political work that is always necessary in this city during national campaigns.

The new organization takes the place of the old Pennsylvania Club, which was chartered in 1881 and which has since that time served several clubs in this city. Several weeks ago a large number of Pennsylvanians resident here held a meeting, at which they resolved to form an organization of voters of their state. They elected as president Col. W. R. Andrews, one of the best-known newspaper men and political managers of Pennsylvania, and for many years secretary of the republican state committee of Pennsylvania, and also private secretary to Senator Penrose.

At the meeting in Grand Army Hall last evening it was announced that the house at the southwest corner of 15th and K streets could be leased, with privilege of renewals, for five years, and President Andrews was authorized to close the negotiations looking to securing the building.

Election of Officers.
Officers were then chosen as follows: First vice president, Charles Meier; second vice president, T. V. Powderly; third vice president, Capt. H. A. Coughlin. Board of governors, Charles Meier, W. G. Russell, H. M. Foote, J. K. Dawes, H. K. Dougherty, S. R. Stratton, Edward J. Fasse, Edwin S. Arnold and William Linn. Treasurer, W. R. Stewart; sergeant-at-arms, William Kraus.

There will be three classes of members of the club. Active members must be voters in Pennsylvania resident in this city; auxiliary members will be voters and residents of Pennsylvania, who come here occasionally, and honorary members may be elected from any of the states.

Pennsylvania Senators Interested.
The Pennsylvania senators are both in thorough sympathy with the movement to establish a first-class club in this city for Pennsylvanians voters. Senator Penrose, when asked a few days ago whether he would be made an active or an auxiliary member, replied:

"Better put me down for both."
The senator will take an active interest in the club and will assist in every way in its advancement.

While the present membership of the organization is about 400, it is believed the number will be increased to 600 or 800, as there are 2,000 voters of Pennsylvania residing here.

GAITHERSBURG NEWS.
Southern Methodists to Have New Church—Building Boom On.

Special Correspondence of The Evening Star.
GAITHERSBURG, Md., May 25, 1914.
Rev. Thomas J. Lambert, pastor of Forest Oak M. E. Church, south of this town, is agitating the subject of the erection of a modern church edifice by the Southern Methodists. He is meeting with success on every hand. It is understood that sentiment seems to favor a change of location to a beautiful corner site in the "Walker addition to Gaithersburg," and that a friend will donate the lot. It is proposed to erect the church of brick at a cost of about $8,000.

Real estate men and contractors and mechanics believe that Gaithersburg is facing such a building boom as was experienced in 1890-93. Workmen are in demand, and there is not an idle man in this locality. Within the past few days the following deals in real estate have been made, and in each instance the erection of new residences or improvements are contemplated: By John W. Walker to Carson Ward, $2,000; same to Gideon D. Briggs, lot, $150; Mrs. L. A. Sterick, executrix of the estate of the late Sylvester J. F. Sterick, to Wm. D. Robertson, house of eight rooms, with three acres of improved land, $2,400. Mr. I. T. Fuks is putting the finishing touches on a seven-room dwelling on Summit avenue, costing about $1,800. The board of county school commissioners gave Mr. Frank C. Hutton $750 per acre for two acres near the Baltimore and Ohio station for a site for the new high school, to cost $6,500, and for which proposals are being received, to be opened June 1, when the contract for building will be awarded. Invitations have been issued for the commencement exercises of Briarley Hall Seminary, to take place in the town hall at Poolesville Thursday evening, June 9.

Postmaster R. H. Miles is sufficiently improved to be sitting up, after an illness of pneumonia.

Rev. George H. Nock, state superintendent of the Maryland Sunday School Union, was in town Tuesday evening, conferring with representatives of the different denominations, with a view to holding the Montgomery county Sunday school convention here. No date has been fixed, but it was determined to hold it in July.

The Evening Star Patterns.

Ladies' Blouse and Skirt.

Nos. 6073-6068.—Never has there been a season when new original ideas in blouses were so much in demand as at the present time. The shirt waist girl was never in a happier mood; she swings out of one season into another with the gratifying knowledge that the shirt waist has lost none of its vogue; but instead, something newer and prettier is being brought out each day. In the charming design shown here she will find much to admire. The blouse is made in the Russian style, although the opening is a little beyond the center front. The waist proper is finished by shaped bands which are stitched in tucked style, the center one being in the front. This affords a place for a little originality in making. The waist might be made of a pale shade of blue cloth, the second band to be of a darker shade and the last band will outline the design, and the effect will be most charming. A more simple waist would be to make the entire waist alike and trim with stitching. The sleeve is of bishop shaping attached to an exceedingly pretty cuff, lengthened by shaped bands to correspond with the waist. The pattern is very simple, as the shaped bands are notched so that one will have no difficulty in placing them in proper position. The waist is made by front, back, sleeve, cuff, collar, poplin belt and shaped bands. Any of the mercerized cottons, wadding of wool or silk will be suited to the mode. A pretty idea would be to edge the bands with a different colored material, forming pipings of cording, which is very effective in the finishing of a waist.

A five-gored foundation skirt, to which is attached the two circular sections. The mode is very pretty for separate skirt and bands. The flounce skirts are the newest style, and bid fair to be the most popular in a long time. It is a style that is especially suited to the light clinging materials that are so much in vogue at the present time.

Medium size of skirt requires 4 yards of material, 36 inches wide.

Tom Brown in Custody for Participation in Notley Hall Row.

Tom Brown was mistaken as to the true state of affairs when he arrived at the Anacostia police station. He supposed he had been arrested because he had tried to dispose of a horse, but later he learned he was to be held for the Maryland authorities because of his alleged participation in the row at Notley Hall last Sunday. Tom is a young colored resident of this city. His father was burned to death a few weeks ago, and the horse he was trying to sell, he says, was left him by his father.

Desk Sgt. Ray suspected that Brown was the man who had taken part in the fight at the river resort and finally Brown admitted that the suspicions were correct. He said he got away from Notley Hall by crossing the river in a small boat. Then he came to the city and got his horse. He said he had been hiding about the country since Monday. He thought he would have no trouble to dispose of the animal and then he would have enough money to get out of the way of the Maryland authorities. Sheriff Middleton was notified of the arrest of Brown and the police expect him to come for the prisoner this afternoon.

The police of the second precinct have captured a colored man named George Young on suspicion of having participated in the Notley Hall fight. Sheriff Middleton has been informed of his arrest.

O'Connor Assumes All the Blame.

Frank Myers, James Chase, James Fitzgerald and Carroll O'Connor, the last named much disgraced about the face, were arraigned in Police Court this morning on the charge of conducting themselves in a disorderly fashion last night at 13½ street and Ohio avenue northwest. The plea of not guilty was entered by all the men with the exception of O'Connor, who explained that he was responsible for the presence in court of the quartet.

Officer Catta informed the court that two of the men indulged in a pugilistic encounter and that they were urged on by the other two men. It developed that O'Connor started a fight with one of the men and that the other two were acting in the capacity of peacekeepers when the police arrived on the scene.

Judge Scott released Myers, Chase and Fitzgerald on their personal bonds, and imposed a fine of $10 upon O'Connor, after commending the prisoner for his honesty in confessing his responsibility in the affair.

Excessive Speed Alleged.

Edward Sims, the colored chauffeur employed by Dr. Kingsman, was arraigned in Police Court this morning on the charge of speeding an automobile faster than the law allows. The bicycle policeman in the case stated that Sims turned a street corner at the rate of ten miles an hour. The latter stoutly denied the charge and declared that his speed at the time mentioned did not exceed three miles an hour.

Dr. Kingsman, who was in court, took the stand in defense of his chauffeur, and cross-examined the officer who made the arrest. The policeman testified that his speedometer was in perfect condition.

The court took the view that the officer discharged his duty in arresting the chauffeur, and imposed a fine of $5, which was paid.
